

BODY LANGUAGE COMMUNICATION & DECEPTION DETECTION SKILLS

19th & 20th July 2024 (Friday & Saturday)

Le Méridien Kota Kinabalu

INTRODUCTION

The science of this course is in its systematic approach to body language & deception detection proven in countless situations that through observation & listening, you can get the truth successfully. To get to the truth, the course teaches you to overcome beliefs that people will not lie to you, teaches you how to overcome reliance on behavioral myths, how to overcome your communication difficulties, and how to overcome your inescapable biases that can prejudice your chance to a correct judgment of truth during an interview, investigation or even interrogation.

It's a truth that behavioral clues to lies do not continually provide absolute evidence to crimes but it does alert you to further investigation and scientific analysis, where they can then uncover lies and reveal evidence of the truth, systematically rather than speculatively. In this course, you'd learn a deception detection model, the OWLS mode, wherein you Observe While Listening Simultaneously for the non-verbal and verbal indicators of deceptive people within 5 seconds.

You would also learn two other risks in detecting deceit, that is disbelieving-the-truth (judging a truthful person to be lying) & believing-a-lie (judging a liar to be truthful). The absence of signs of deceit is also not truth, because some people don't leak. The signs of deceit is also not always evidence of lying, as some people appear guilty even when they are truthful. Yet, you will learn that more than one indicator, a cluster, within 5 seconds after a strategic question is asked or a stimulus is given, the result is often the truth, which tells that the interviewee, suspect, witness, or the guilty is lying.
